BURNTISLAND COMMUNITY FUTURES STEERING GROUP

The preparation of the Community Action Plan has been guided by a local steering group which brings together representatives of the Burntisland Community Council, local community groups, businesses and interested local residents.

LOCAL PEOPLE HAVE THEIR SAY

The Community Action Plan has been compiled on the basis of the responses gathered through extensive community engagement carried out over a four month period from June – September 2015.

The process involved:
- a community views survey, delivered to a representative sample of 1,000 households and also available on-line and in community venues
- stakeholder interviews and meetings with different groups and individuals representing all aspects of the community
- a visitor survey carried out face to face with visitors to Burntisland
- preparing a community profile detailing facts and figures about the community
- a Community Futures Event held on 26 September 2015
We have summarised below some of the main facts and figures from the Community Profile - a report produced by the Steering Group to give a picture of Burntisland as it is now.

BURNTISLAND COMMUNITY PROFILE SUMMARY

LOCATION
Burntisland is a small seaside town located on the Firth of Forth, in mid-Fife, 6 miles west of Kirkcaldy between Aberdour and Kinghorn. From Burntisland there are stunning views across the Firth of Forth to Edinburgh, and down to the Forth road and rail bridges.

POPULATION
The population of Burntisland is around 6,600 and has grown significantly over the last 15 years. The latest figures available for 2013 show a population growth of 16.74% since 2001, compared to a growth of 5% for Fife over the same period, and 4.6% for Scotland up till 2011. The greatest growth has been in the population of children, and the over 60 age groups.

HOUSING
There are around 3200 households in Burntisland, compared to just over 2500 in 2001. This growth has largely been due to new build, particularly on the site of the Alcan Aluminium factory, which has brought many families to the town. There is further housing development planned on several sites in the town including the old primary school.

LOCAL ECONOMY AND EMPLOYMENT
Burntisland has an industrial heritage which includes shipbuilding from 1918 to 1969, the Grange distillery - that started as a brewery in 1767 and was still used as a warehouse until 1987, the shale oilworks at Binnend, the vitriol works and the limekiln at Lammerlaws. The British Alcan plant (previously British Aluminium) closed in 2002 after 85 years of operation in Burntisland.

Present day industrial businesses include:
- BiFAB - Burntisland Fabrications Ltd which produces fabrications for the oil and gas industries
- Briggs Marine - marine and environmental services
- Scott Pallets – timber pallet manufacturing

Burntisland has a good selection of independent shops, cafes, fast food outlets and pubs on the High Street. The town centre benefitted from a Town Centre Heritage initiative some years ago which provided partial grants for shop front renewal, signage, and street furniture. As with many small town High Streets, there are a number of empty properties and gap sites.

Burntisland has been a popular destination for day trippers and visitors since Victorian times. The summer fairground and “market day” are a longstanding tradition on the Burntisland Links over the summer months. However, there has been a drop in visitors over the last 30 years, and a corresponding decline in the hospitality sector.

With good rail and road connections and affordable house prices, Burntisland is increasingly popular as a base for commuting to Kirkcaldy, Edinburgh and Glasgow.
PRE-SCHOOL & CHILDCARE
- Burntisland Playgroup, Parent and Toddler groups at the Young Hall and the Erskine church, private day care nursery and several childminders.
- Burntisland Primary School has places for 30 under 3’s and 160 children aged 3 - 4.
- Burntisland Out of School Care (BOSS) operates daily from the Toll Centre and during school holidays. Attendance has grown in 3 years from around 28 children to over 40.

PRIMARY EDUCATION
The new Burntisland Primary School was built in 2014 and has a current roll of 530. This has increased by around 100 children in the last 10 years.

SECONDARY EDUCATION
Most children go on to Balwearie High School in Kirkcaldy.

HEALTH & CARE
The Masterton Health Centre is home to two medical practices providing comprehensive health services. There is one small pharmacy in the town. Nearest hospital & emergency services are at Kirkcaldy – Victoria Hospital.

Care and housing for the elderly includes:
- Links View Care Home
- Allan Court sheltered housing
- St Andrews Court sheltered housing

COMMUNITY FACILITIES & ORGANISATIONS
Several of the community facilities in Burntisland are in the Common Good;
- The Young Community Hall
- The Burgh Chambers
- The Unity Hall

Other community facilities include Church Halls and The Toll Centre. The Toll Centre was built in the 1970s as a youth and recreation facility, and is run by a voluntary community management committee. There are many community organisations in Burntisland. A list can be found on the website www.burntisland.net
CHURCHES
- Burntisland Parish Church
- St Serf’s Scottish Episcopal Church
- Erskine United Free Church
- St Josephs Catholic Church
- Salvation Army Church

All the Churches play an important part in supporting the community, and work collectively under the banner of Churches Together.

SPORTS & RECREATION FACILITIES INCLUDE:
- The Links & beach area
- The Beacon Centre (swimming pool and leisure centre)
- Golf course
- Bowling green
- Skateboard park
- Multi Use Games Area
- Astroturf pitches
- Toll Park grass football pitches
- Play areas

ENVIRONMENT
- The Firth of Forth is a SSSI (site of special scientific interest) and Ramsar site
- The Binn, Dunearn Hill Wood and Stenhouse Reservoir are all designated wildlife sites
- Fife Coastal Path extends from the Forth to the Tay – a distance of 117 miles. Burntisland benefits from access to the Coastal Path between Aberdour and Kinghorn.

FAB (Floral Action Burntisland) was formed in 2012, with the aim of “making Burntisland fabulous by caring for and improving the local environment”. FAB achieved a Silver Gilt award in Beautiful Fife 2015.

HERITAGE
The Royal Burgh of Burntisland was granted its first royal charter by King James V in 1541. The Links were gifted to the townspeople by King James V. Over the years they have served for the drying of fishing nets and clothes, the grazing of livestock, and recreation. They were used for golf from 1668, and were the home of Burntisland Golf Club (founded in 1797, the 11th oldest in Scotland, now playing at Dodhead).

In 1601 the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland met in Burntisland Parish Church in the presence of King James VI. The King proposed - and the Assembly agreed - that a new translation of the Bible was required. This led to the King James Bible which had a transforming effect on the world.

Burntisland Heritage Trust aims to protect and promote all aspects of Burntisland’s heritage. The Trust volunteers run the Heritage Centre, summer exhibitions, heritage walks, various projects and www.burntisland.net Scotland’s only Museum of Communication is in Burntisland. There is also a small heritage exhibition in the library.

OUR VISION FOR THE FUTURE OF BURNTISLAND

This statement has been prepared to summarise the main aspirations for the future as expressed by local people and organisations.

A vibrant and forward looking seaside town with great community spirit, working together to make the most of our cultural and natural assets, providing quality services and facilities for visitors and locals.

“Scottish beach destination of choice providing the best range of sea and land based activities in the UK”

“seen as a top destination in Scotland for that seaside experience, bustling high Street filled with unique and interesting shops, nice venues for a coffee or drink”

“thriving High Street with a small cinema, decent pubs, street fairs and markets”

“a lively supportive community where we feel proud to be Burntisland residents, where we welcome visitors and care for each other”

“nice clean town with large enough facilities to accommodate the population”

“local groups working together for mutual benefit – to strengthen and celebrate the community”

“an attractive 21st century seaside resort making full use of its wonderful natural situation and amenities – its’ fantastic beach, links, harbour and history”

“an aspirational, culturally rich & diverse town at the forefront of community and green projects”

“A community with energy and vibrancy - and a plan for the future!”
These are the main strategies and priorities to address the issues that matter most to the community. We will work towards achieving these in partnership with public agencies and other supporters.

THEME 1: Arts, Heritage and Culture

Burntisland has a wealth of history dating back to the granting of the Royal Charter in 1541. Several of the historic buildings are subjects of the Common Good, and looked after by Fife Council on behalf of the community. This is an opportunity to look at how these important community assets can best be managed for community benefit. Local groups already do much to organise traditional events and there is ambition to build on this to develop Burntisland as a year round arts and events destination.

The future of Burntisland Heritage Trust depends on new volunteers and continued support from Fife Council and the community.

Main priorities:
- The Town Clock
- Develop the Young Community Hall
- Festivals and events
- Use of Burgh Chambers complex
- Burntisland Heritage Trust

THEME 2: Local Economy and Tourism

The High Street is valued for its variety of independent traders, who work hard to provide a local service as well as attract visitors. However, there is a concern that the fabric of the High Street is beginning to look run-down and that it would benefit from greater variety of shops and evening eating places. The station is a main arrival point in the town, and a few years ago there were plans and funding for redevelopment which were shelved due to lack of a community body to drive them forward. People now feel this was an important project to pursue, in particular the need for providing a fully accessible station.

Burntisland’s seafront location is one of its greatest assets, and there is a desire to see it improved and enhanced. The potential for the community to have more involvement in the management and development of the Links should also be explored.

Main priorities:
- Improve the High Street
- Station redevelopment
- Develop seafront and Links area
- Promotion and marketing
THEME 3: Community & Recreation
The increase in families and children in Burntisland over the last 10 years has put pressure on existing play, recreation and sports facilities. There have been some recent welcome improvements with the development of the skatepark, MUGA and all weather pitches but there is a need to review provision and ensure it is fit for the future. All ages in the community felt it was important that a variety of activities are available for young people.

The existing community facilities all provide a valuable resource and need continued support. There is however a lack of a dedicated community facility in the Castle area.

The Churches do a grand job of looking after the most vulnerable in the community, as does the Wednesday Social club, but there is a need for additional resources to provide outreach activities for elderly and isolated people.

Main priorities:
• Play & sports facilities
• Activities for young people
• Improve and make best use of our community facilities
• Activities and support for elderly

THEME 4: Better Local Services
The main concern was about the inadequacy of having one small pharmacy to serve the whole of Burntisland. Residents are also concerned that the police presence in the town has diminished greatly, and this has led to worries about community safety. Whilst appreciating that this is perhaps a national decision, rather than local, it is still worth noting.

The provision of well-maintained public toilets, especially near the beach, was a top priority from the Visitor Survey, and also from residents using the Links and other recreation areas.

Parking and traffic management are also issues of concern.

Main priorities:
• Health facilities and pharmacy
• Community Safety
• Improve public toilets
• Parking & traffic management
THEME 5: Environment and Access
The surrounding environment is one of Burntisland’s most loved features – people really value its location “between the sea and the countryside” as well as having the open spaces of the Links, Ross Point and Toll Park. Tackling litter and dog fouling are top of the agenda, as well as making the most of the valuable open spaces – particularly exploring future community management of the Links.

The Fife Coastal Path is a superb resource for walkers, and is much used by locals as well as visitors. Other paths in the area should be developed and maintained, and there is also no safe cycle route from Burntisland to Kirkcaldy.

The work of Floral Action Burntisland is greatly appreciated by residents and visitors, and they have the full support of the community in their efforts to “make Burntisland fabulous”!

The potential to develop a community renewable energy scheme also gained considerable support, and would be worth exploring.

Main priorities:
• Clean up Burntisland!
• Environmental enhancement and green spaces
• Paths, access and cycle ways
• Community renewable energy

To assist in working with Fife Council and other agency partners, we show in the table below how the themes in the Burntisland Community Action Plan relate to the main themes identified by Kirkcaldy Area Local Community Plan 2015-2016.
Our plan for priority projects and actions to be started over the next 12 months and who will take the lead and be involved to make it happen.

An important first step for all themes will be to explore the potential to set up an “umbrella organisation” – a community development trust for Burntisland – to build capacity and to support other groups, creating synergy between priorities.

There was a terrific response to the community consultation and we intend to build on this positivity in the community and create more opportunities for people to get involved.

WORKING TOGETHER

Community groups and organisations in Burntisland will work together with Fife Council, Fife Coast and Countryside Trust, Police Scotland and other partners to implement the priorities in the Action Plan.

COMMUNITY ORGANISATIONS

Existing groups will be supported, and some new action groups will be set up to build capacity and involve new people in making things happen – e.g. Paths Group, Green Burntisland Group.

We will explore the potential to establish an “umbrella” Burntisland Community Development Trust that can take on ownership or lease of buildings & land, generate income and employ staff.
